Structure of Liberal Arts Program

- Liberal Arts program is typically spread across 3 verticals: Major, Minor, and Foundation
- A Major is the field in which a student focuses during his/her degree.
Majors can either be Pure Majors (Computer Science, English, History, Biology, and more) or Interdisciplinary Majors (Politics, Philosophy & Economics; Computer Science & Entrepreneurial Leadership; English & Creative Writing; Politics & Society; History & International Relations; English & Media Studies)

- A Minor is a secondary concentration of courses that often complements the Major.
 - Few choices when it comes to a Minor subject are:
 - Performing Arts
 - Visual Arts
 - Entrepreneurship
 - Environmental studies
 - International Relations
 - Media Studies
 - Creative Writing
- Foundation Courses are distinctive courses that introduce students to various styles of thinking, but also to inter-disciplinary and transdisciplinary approaches.
 - Some of the choices are:
 - Environmental Studies
 - Great Books
 - Indian Civilization
 - Introduction to Mathematical Thinking
 - Literature & the World
 - Mind & Behaviour
 - Principles of Science
 - Social & Political Formations
